Building leaders in the sustainable management of contaminated land and groundwater

Add your ALGA volunteer role to LinkedIn

Adding your volunteer role helps show your contribution to ALGA and to the Contaminated Land Industry.

1. Open your LinkedIn profile.

2. Scroll to the Volunteer experience section. If it is not on your profile, select Add profile section, then Additional, then Add volunteer experience.

3. Add the details below:

Organisation	Australasian Land & Groundwater Association (ALGA)
Role	Use your specific role, such as Branch Committee Member, ecoforum Committee Member, Emerging Professional Committee Member, etc
Cause	Environment
Start date	The month and year you started
Description	Add a short summary of what you contribute. You can use the example below.

Example description

Volunteer with ALGA to support knowledge sharing, professional development and industry connections across the contaminated Land & Groundwater sector. I contribute to events, networking opportunities and initiatives that support ALGA members and the wider industry.

Tip: Select the official ALGA LinkedIn page when adding the organisation, so the ALGA logo appears with your volunteer role. Then select Save.
